CAMP BIG PINE GIRLS

At New Year's Eve Banquet-Guests of Rev. and Mrs. H. J. Wyckeff.

Seven of the twelve girls who enjoyed the season at Camp Big Pine, Lake Eniriee, Vt., last summer were guests of Rev. and Mrs. Herbert J. Wyokoff at the Second Congregational parsonage on Church street Friday evening. There was a banquet, followed by an illustrated lecture dealing with the activities of the summer. Saturday morning the girls had a hike about town, after which the group was photographed on the parsonage porch by Rev. Mr. Wyekoff. The visiting girls left for their homes after funch. They were Miss Emily Beecher, Miss Caroline Beecher and Miss Bermice Walkley of New Haven. Other camp girls at the reunion were Miss Heien Otts, Miss Esther Allen and Miss Helen Peale of Norwich, with Missas Dorothy. Lillian and Mary Wyckoff.

During their stay in Norwich the out of town camp girls were guests at the parsonage.

INDIAN CHIEF TOLD STORY OF HIS CONVERSION

among the members of White Cross C. A. assembly hall Sunday afternoon council, No. 13, K. of C., in which the games are played in the club's rooms in the Sunlight building, James Sheridan is at present leading in the total of points and at the same time has nearly played out his quota of games, having only three more to play. There are 29 entries and each man plays two games with every opponent, four frames constituting a game. The prizes will be awarded at the finish to the three players having the highest total in points.

At the present time the standing is as follows, the handicap added in each case:

Chief Rain-in-the-Face, at 3.30 o'clock, Chief Rain-in-the-Face, a converted Cherokee Indian, told his life's story in an interesting and gripping manner. How he, as a mere child, was harshly forbidden to attend the little mission school in Oklahoma, the home state of his tribe, and how he was finally the school, and how he was finally the school, and how he was finally the missionaries were a few of the things the Indian chief told his hear-ters.

Chief Rain-in-the-Face was born in the southwestern part of Oklahoma on Dec. 22, 1885, far away from civilization and the white man. His people had never heard of God nor of Jesus; lon and the white man. His people had never heard of God nor of Jesus; their god was the sun and to the sun they addressed their prayers and supplications. They knew no better, said the Indian chief, they had no one to teach them, no one to lead them. When Chief Rain-in-the-Face was about 11 years old a white missionary visited his father's wigwam; his visit was very unwelcome and his life was threatened unless he departed. Another missionary came. His visit was just as unwelcome, and he fared even worse, for he received the full force of 266 heavy club in the hands of the Indian chief's grandmother.

OPPORTUNITY OPENING TO BUILD UP HOME CITY IN COMING YEAR.

Mayor of Norwich Calls Upon Citizens Each to Do His Part Towards Year of Growth and Prosperity.

The following New Year's greetings from the mayors of Norwich and New London which were prepared for the January 1st edition of The Bulletin, but were necessarily omitted for lack of space:

Pleased with this far-reaching opportunity offered by The Bulletin, I give hearty and sincere best wishes to all for a happy, prosperous New Year.

The past year 1915 has been one of great p.

in Norwich as well as all over this great country of ours, and it looks as though the year 1916 would prove to be even more prosperous. Owing to the unfortunate war conditions abroad, we have prospects of a larg-er and busier year in the manufacturing industries of this country. We have right here in our midst industries that have branched out to such an extent as to almost double their out-put of former years, and now is the opportune time for our citizens to invest their money in good, safe home security by building or helping to build homes for these new citizens who are

MAYOR T. C. MURPHY.

With continued, united and persistent effort on the part of the whole people in 1916 for the general advancement of the best interests of the city, there is every reason to believe that Norwich will continue to grow and prosper, and in the fullest meaning of the term. COMMUNITY CO-OPERATION IN FUTURE Mayor of New London Congratulates Twin Cities of Norwich and New London on Increasing Good Fellowship,

The mayor of New London congratulates the twin cities of Norwich and New London on the spirit of good fellowship, which he noticed so pleasantly manifested at the meeting of the Eastern Connecticut development committee in Norwich, December 8th.

Norwich, December 8th.
The day for petty jealousies between personal competitors and cities is happily passing. The former spirit of merciless competition, with the survival only of the fittest. is now being superseded by thoughtful co-operation; building up instead of tearing down.

Men are thinking in broader units and their vision should include not only their own city, but also their own County.
State and Nation. Yet with this broader view is coming a keener appreciation of neighborhood possibilities, a wiser ciation of neighborhood possibilities, a wiser utilization of those public agencies whose scope is planning for others. The most recent of such agencies is the New London County Improvement league, with its headquarters in Norwich, an organization to promote agriculture. Norwich and New London are situated in the same county on the same river, served by the same systems of railways and Norwich and New London are situated in the same county, on the same river, served by the same systems of railroads and trolleys and have much in common. As president of the New London County Historical society for the past fifteen years, I have knowledge of the strong spirit of co-operation in historical and educational matters. Now upon the threshold of the New Year, opening with much promise of prosperity, it is hoped we may be more closely drawn together commercially.

> Robert Brown of Springfield college visiting relatives here. There are many cases of the grip eported about the village.

At the Friday night watch meeting at Mt. Calvary Baptist church, Rev. J. H. Dennis spoke from the 90th Psalm upon the subject Length of Life. He said that our lives should grow better and richer in spirit, love and activity while nearing the end of the old year and life. Then with pleasure and hope the new year is welcomed. The meeting was uplifting and spiritual and many testified. Prayers for greater things were offered.

At 11.55 some forty or more people bowed upon their kness as Pastor Dennia led in prayer, thanking God for the past and praising him for the future. As the bells and whistles announced the deal of 1915 and half 1916 a spirit of peace and love filled each heart as they arose and greeted one another "Happy New Year!" Despite the unfavorable weather, work is progressing favorably at the state steamship terminal in East New London. A cargo of over 1,000 piles has arrived and these are being unloaded and driven into the filled area of the pier to serve as an additional foundation for the warehouses to be erected in the spring.

Connecticut's motor vehicle law gives the secretary of state wide powers over the operators of automobiles. In the state this year there have been 110 deaths, ten of which were those of operators killed in their own cars, five of which were caused by operators not identified and four of which were cause dby unlicensed operators. For the other deaths the licenses of 33 operators were suspended, 73 of these licenses—which illustrates the fairness with which the law works—having been returned upon the exoneration of the the operator.
